Internet Web Site

The Roadway Design Internet Web Site ( www.dot.state.az.us/ROADS/Rdwyeng ) is intended to provide a service to users with the most up-to-date documents for use in design of ADOT highway projects. Utilization of current design documents is essential to good design. We have experienced several instances where designers have downloaded the files into their own directories and have chosen to continue to use them without checking for updates. This has resulted in outdated details and designs being utilized on the plans. Please advise all of your design personnel to continually check for updates on the Roadway website and use only current design information. Thank you for your attention to this important issue.
